

Acute Zika Virus Infection after Travel to Malaysian Borneo, September 2014

Technical Appendix

Technical Appendix Figure. Map of northern Borneo showing the itinerary through the Malaysian state of Sabah of a patient with Zika fever. The patient most likely became infected while staying in Keningau and southern villages (Papalungan), where she also took a boat trip on the Sungai Papalungan, a river through the rain forest.